ACTION REQUESTED:	Information Only

Boulder County Parks and Open Space offers a wide range of programs, from seeding limber pines, digging drains on the trails, monitoring vegetation to restoring historic structures. Much of our work goes unseen by the greater public. Over the past few years, thanks to the talent of several dedicated staff members, our department has expanded our capacity and expertise in producing media, including videos, to tell these incredible stories and provide a comprehensive understanding of the diverse aspects, activities, and events hosted by BCPOS, while also portraying BCPOS and its people in a relatable and personable manner.

We invite the Parks and Open Space Advisory Committee to gain a behind-the-scenes look at some of these hidden efforts and learn more about the video creation process from the staff who bring these stories to life.
